DETAILED ACTION

This communication is in response to Applicant's amendment filed on April 22, 2010. Claims 1 and 3-48 are under prosecution in this application.

Response to Applicant's Amendment

Applicants' amendments filed on April 22, 2010 have been fully considered, and discussed in the next section below or within the following rejections under 35 U.S.C. § 103. Applicants' request for allowance is respectfully denied.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent May not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 148 USPQ 459, that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.

Art Unit: 3691

4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or unobviousness.

Claims 1, 3-35, 37-42, and 44-48 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Carlisle et al in view of (Derksen and Gungl et al) in view of Electronic Payment Systems and further in view Lee et al (US 6003014) as discussed in the previous office action.

Claims 36 and 43 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Carlisle et al in view of (Derksen and Gungl et al) in further view of Electronic Payment Systems in view of Lee as applied to claims above, and further in view of Taskett as discussed in the previous office action.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claim1 and 3-48 have been fully considered but are not persuasive. Applicant argues in substance that Lee does not teach that loyalty programs are linked to the other applications. Lee does not teach the use of a loyalty program linked to both an application-specific value account and a general value account on a single card.

In response; Lee clearly teaches that the loyalty application is linked to the transit application, the stored value application and other applications (col. 4, lines 35-

Art Unit: 3691

55). Examiner agrees that the transit application program is a separate application. However, Lee teaches that the it runs in conjunction with stored value application program and other application programs such as credit/debit applications, loyalty programs, or the like. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordianry skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify the teachings of Carlisle to include this feature as taught by Lee for the obvious reason of utilizing the card for as an all purpose card, thereby enhancing the functionality of the card.

Conclusion

Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a). A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
